HER WAYS.

BY CHARLES MACKEY. When there is something to be said,

In pleasure or in pain, To brighten joy like sunlight shed, Or dry affections rain: When she'd console, rebuke, control,

With "yes," or "no," as clear-She's such a way of saying it, Tis pleasantness to hear.

And when there's something to be done, At need's or duty's call, A courtesy, a charity,

A kindness great or small; Or, daily grief, that seeks relief; What'er the action be-She's such a way of doing it she wins all hearts to see.

But saying, doing, night or day, 'Tis difficult to tell The sweetest grace of mind or face, That marks her to excel. She spldom breathes the love I crave, But robed in light divine,

She's such a way of looking it

As proves her to be mine.

THE DVING CALIFORNIAN:

THE BROTHER'S REQUEST. BY MRS. S. L. RUNDLE.

Lie up nearer, brother, nearer; For my limbs are growing cold, And thy presence seemeth dearer, When thy arms around me fold. I am dying, brother, dying-Soon you'll miss me from your berth,

For my form will soon be lying

'Neath the ocean's briny surf. Harken to me, brother, harken-I have something I would say, Ere the vale my vision darken, And I go from home away. lam going—surely going— But my hope in God is strong;

I am dying, brother, dying-But He doeth nothing wrong. Tell my father, when you greet him, That in death I prayed for him-Prayed that I may one day meet him In a world that's free from sin. Tell my mother (God assist her! Now that she is growing old,) That her child would have gladly kiss'd her, flowi

When his lips grew pale and cold. Tell her she must kiss my children, Like the kiss I last impressed-Hold them, as last I held them, Folded closely to my breast. Give them early to their Maker, Putting all trust in God; And He never will forsake her, For He saith so in his word.

Tell my sister I remember Every kindly parting word; And my heart has been kept tender By the thoughts her mam'ry stirred. Tell her I never reached the haven Where I sought the precious dust; But I've gained a port called Heaven, Where the gold can never rust.

Listen, brother, catch each whisper-Tis my wife I'd speak of now; Tell, oh! tell her how I missed her When the fever burned my brow; Tell her, brother, - closely listen; Don't forget a single word-That in death my eyes did glisten, When the tears her mem'ry stirred.

Oh! my children, Heaven bless them! They recall my life to me-Would I could once more caress them, Ere I sink beneath the sea! Twas for them I crossed the ocean-What my hopes were I'll not tell; But they've gained an orphan's portion,

Yet He doeth all things well. Urgo them to secure an entrance, For they'll find their father there; Faith in Jesus and repentance Will secure for each a share. Hark! I hear my Saviour speaking! 'Tis his voice I know so well; When I'm gone, oh, don't be weeping-
