PRIDE.

BY JOHN G. SAXE. Tis a curious fact as ever was known, But often in human nature shown, Alike in castle and cottage, That pride, like pigs of a certain brood, Will manage to live and thrive on food As poor as pauper pottage.

Of all the notable things on earth, The queerest thing is the pride of birth, Among our "fierce democracy!" A bridge across a hundred years, Without a prop to save it from sneers-Not even a couple of rotten peers-A thing for laughter, flings, and jers, Is American aristocracy!

Depend upon it, my snobbish friend, Your family thread you can't ascend. Without good reason to apprehend You may find it waxed on the other end By some plebeian vocation! Or worse than that, your boasted line, May end in a loop of stronger twine, That plagued some worthy relation.

Because you flourish in wordly affairs, Do not be haughty and put on airs, With insolent pride of station! Don't be proud and turn up your nose At poorer people in plainer clothes, That all proud flesh, wherever it grows, Is subject to irritation!
