AN ANXIOUS MOTHER SAVES

Hoping my feeble but honest statement may reach the eye of some anxious mother, I cheersick in the year 1867. She had a dreadful cough, and raised frightful quantities every time she coughed. I employed several prominent physicians. Still, I could daily see the flesh wasting from her bones, until every physician who attended her pronounced her case hopeless. Indeed she had got so low and far gone that no one expected she would live from Was awarded the highest medal and diploma one hour to another. Though not thinking I could save her, I felt that, as long as life existed, I must continue trying. While in this airing state of mind I was advised to try Vegetine, and, although I did not indulge in the least hope, I commenced it by giving small doses, and I could see her revive under its influence. I followed on regularly until the direful disease, scrofula, showed itself, by sores til there were five large running sores right opposite her lungs, which seemed firmly ingrafted into the system. Still, after these sores appeared she began to mend rapidly. gave the vegetine more freely then, and this was the only medicine searching enough to bring it out. Finally the sores commenced to heal, and they disappeared in the same way as they came one at a time and at the end of six months from the time I commenced to give her Vegetine every sore had disappeared, and she was completely cured. She is now enjoying good health, with no signs of scrofula or consumption. It shows conclusively that Veg-

There is nothing like courtesy in business Be polite to everybody, eyen though they throw your goods and wares in all sorts of shapes, and go away without purchasing. The buyer who receives polite treatment in a store is not only likely to go there again, but is very apt to make mention of his or her pleasant experience to others. Thus, business politeness is constantly creating living and talking advertisements, while rudepose and impoliteness are living and talking advertisements of the opposite pharacters.
