

a lecture room table, & that Dr P. was with him to come his views, but immediately groined, or wrapped up, the matter & ran away; - & that he be here going away he had a Dr. G. you would be to find out where the workshop was & how it all done up in good shape, & that there would be a care of him; - came out of Dr. W. and did make my answer - I came out here to look as I was sure to go with him; & then had any con. with him before. I was to any acc^o with him - He had a con. in this town. I saw him put it on the table some times. - Dr W. stood with his face to the College. We all stood round to the table; but L. was standing rather sideways - I was given any attention to it till about a week ago, when I was at home;

Dr John B. G. Jackson. One one of the professors at the College - pathological anatomy - I have known L. for some time & have been professor & for some years before.

I rec^d that L. did apply to me about ^{the} side of the stairs that were very crowded. - He did not make any direct application to me to do any thing - or for leave to do it. He was speaking, relating to Dr W.
 & he informed me that he had already partially dug through the cellar wall. I advised him to go and finish the opening through the wall
