L - used a broom to search the boys heads
Where did he find the broom?

The broom was usually kept behind the door in my upper room - behind the door opening on to the stairs - which door he says he had no key to.

Some one has lately been at Cambridge questioning John Wiley (who worked for me) but John suspecting it might be for information to be used against me assumed an air of stupidity & refused answering.

The person also inquired about our servant
Ann & asked if her name was Bridget.

Miss Bent has declared in the Omnibus that she saw me when at her mothers & that her mother is mistaken - there was nothing unusual in my appearance.

Parson Blake denies positively that he ever said I was disturbed &c

Blood may have come from my dog that came into the house one day having been shot by some one - he was bleeding much I took him to the wood house.
